the Perspective from Latin America
13–14 May 2010, São Paulo, Brazil

the global voice of the legal profession

Why the IBA

The International Bar Association (IBA) influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession. The IBA has offices in London, Sao Paolo and Dubai. The association comprises over 35,000 lawyers, 80 group member law firms and over 197 bar associations and law societies across all continents.

By sponsoring an IBA event you will place your brand in front of some of the world's most prominent consumers and be provided with the opportunity to raise your company's profile among your existing clients and potential new clients.

The IBA organises nearly 40 specialist conferences per year worldwide which are attended by an unrivalled list of leading law professionals. The events give members and non-members alike an invaluable opportunity to share information regarding the latest developments in the industry.

The conferences are also widely regarded as valuable networking occasions, thus sponsorship not only offers you the opportunity to put your company brand in front of some of the world's top consumers and business decision makers, but it will also enhance your marketing message by enabling you to network with high profile decision makers in large international law firms and in-house counsel of some of the largest corporations in the world – a most distinguished target base for advertisers everywhere.

Sponsorship of an IBA event will help you to:

- Enhance your brand amongst a distinguished target base
- Give you the opportunity to network with decision makers
- Impress and influence your existing client base as well as make new connections
- Launch and promote a product/service
- Increase brand awareness
- Develop new business
- Network with decision makers from major corporate law firms and other businesses

The IBA membership base comprises 100 per cent of the Legal500's UK top 50 law firms as well as almost 80 per cent of ALM's top 50 law firms, including Allen & Overy, Clifford Chance, DLA Piper, Eversheds LLP, SJ Berwin LLP, Clyde & Co, Jones Day, Bird & Bird and Irwin Mitchell to name but a few.

The IBA would indeed be delighted to have you onboard as a sponsor.

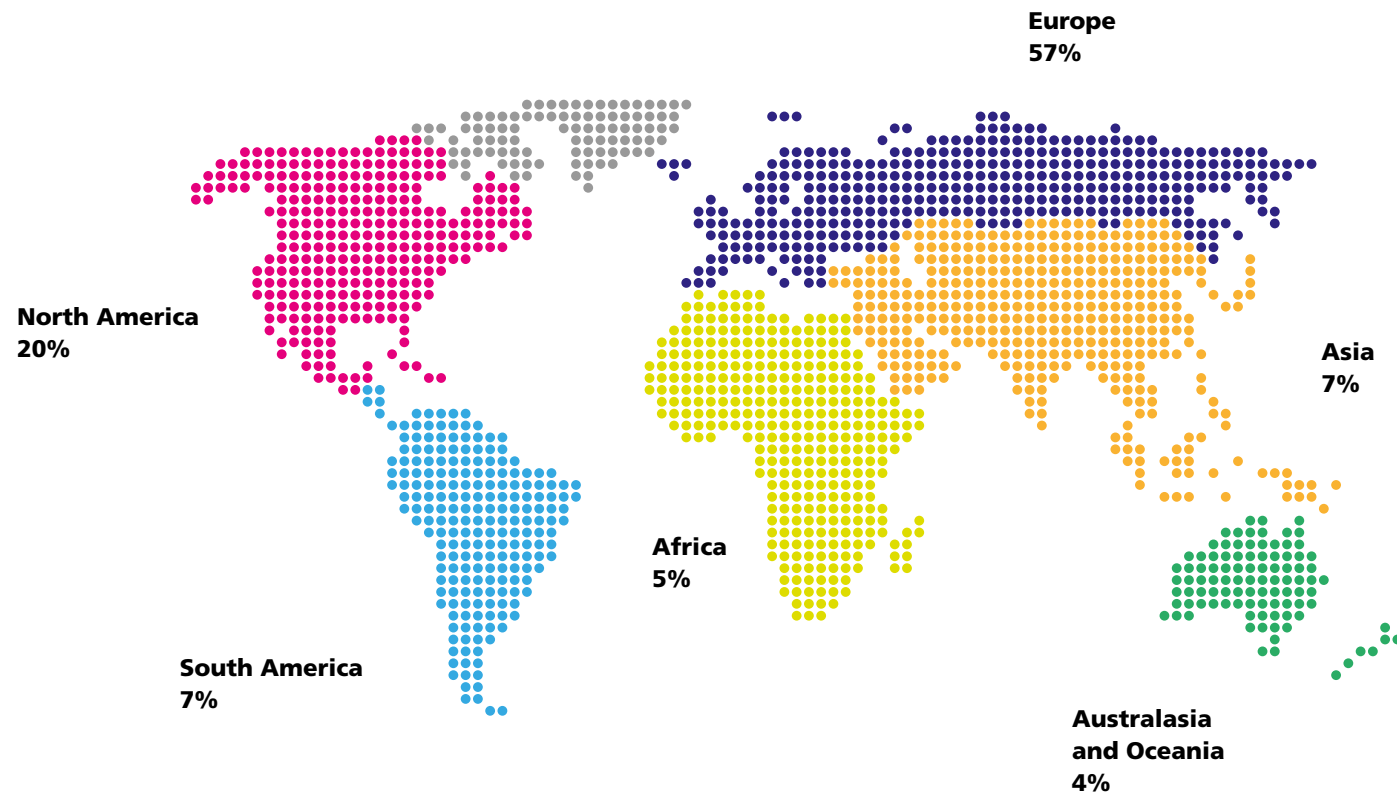

If you would like to discuss this and the many other opportunities open to you with the IBA, please contact Flavia Alves on +55 (11) 3044 1456 or e-mail flavia.alves@int-bar.org.

IBA best practices policy for attendees, exhibitors and sponsors

IBA provides opportunities for sponsors to have direct exposure to conference attendees during the sponsored conference defined in this document. All conference sponsors are expected to abide by the following policy: (1) conference sponsors will not detract from any other company's investment by competing with the sponsored event, eg, the hosting of an event at the same time as an IBA sponsored event; (2) conference sponsors will not interfere with another sponsor's or exhibitor's communication with an attendee communication, either directly or indirectly, eg, the distribution of brochures or other collateral outside of a designated area/exhibit booth. These and other similar actions will be considered unacceptable, and will be prohibited except with the explicit written permission of IBA. All attendees, regardless of whether they sponsor, exhibit or network at an event, are subject to the guidelines of this policy. Attendance at the conference signifies agreement to this policy and subsequent consequences if violated.

Exhibitor attendance and badges

Each exhibitor must wear an official IBA conference badge. Exhibitor badges cannot be assigned to another person at the conference, only those registered prior to the conference may attend the event, any other non-registered attendees will be asked to leave. Notification of changes to exhibition staff must be sent via email, to specialist.conferences@int-bar.org, no later than 5 working days prior to the commencement of the conference. No additional badges will be issued at the event. Exhibitors cannot attend sessions. Exhibitors may only attend the conference welcome reception. Paying delegates will be given priority at all other social events. Lunches are not provided for exhibitors as part of any sponsorship package, however, from time to time permission may be granted by the IBA conference organiser at the conference.

Use of space/promotional materials

When exhibiting all solicitation, demonstration or other promotional activities must be confined to the limits of the area assigned. No sponsor can distribute promotional materials in a break out room or session. Literature on display shall be limited to reasonable quantities. A company's promotional materials should not interfere with any other company's sponsorship or exhibition. Sponsors need written permission to distribute promotional materials during an event that they are sponsoring. Further, a sponsor is prohibited from distributing copyrighted materials, unless they have written permission to distribute such materials. Law firms and organisations that provide legal advice as part of their day-to-day business cannot distribute promotional materials regarding their firm, partners, employees or exhibit at an IBA conference.

Any space not claimed and occupied for which no special arrangements have been made by noon on the day of the conference, may be resold or reassigned by the IBA to eliminate empty spaces in the exhibit hall. The IBA will not refund any part of the booth rental and exhibitors will be liable for the full rental amount. Exhibitors may not assign or sublet any space allotted to them and may not advertise or display goods other than those manufactured or sold by them in the regular course of their business.

Exhibition materials should be covered from the time they are shipped, through move-in, exhibit dates, move-out and until all materials have been received at the point of origin. The exhibitor assumes the entire responsibility and liability for losses, damages and claims arising out of injury or damage to exhibitor's display, equipment and other property brought upon the premises of the venue and shall indemnify and hold harmless the IBA from any and all such abuses, damages and claims.

Compliance

The exhibitor agrees to abide by and comply with the rules and regulations including any amendments that conference management may make from time to time.
