

Insolvency and Restructuring International

Guidelines for contributors

- Insolvency and Restructuring International (IRI), published by the Insolvency Section, part of the Legal Practice Division of the IBA, aims to cover issues of relevance to the international legal business community, particularly those involved in all aspects of insolvency, bankruptcy, creditors' rights and restructuring. All members of the Section receive the journal as part of their membership. It is also available to other interested individual subscribers and libraries.
- Articles provide a practical analysis of current developments and timely issues in the area of insolvency and creditors' rights, and in other areas of law that will be of interest to insolvency practitioners, and offer a survey of the law in areas of particular interest to our international readership. The Editorial Board welcomes the submission of articles that illuminate legal problems or issues currently confronted by practitioners, governments, international organisations, private enterprises and so on, by setting them within their general legal, economic or political context. Articles are welcome from private practitioners and academics, as well as international organisations working in the field of insolvency.
- Articles should typically be around 1,500–3,000 words, although longer articles will be considered for publication. As stated above, articles should provide practical analysis of current developments and timely issues and, in particular, those of interest to an international readership.
- Except in special circumstances, the Editorial Board will not consider articles published or to be published elsewhere. Authors are asked to confirm that their typescript is not and will not be so published, or to explain the relevant circumstances.
- Copyright in the article will normally be assigned to the IBA.
- The title and author of the article should be clearly indicated together with a brief personal description (max 50 words) that the author would wish to see appear.
- Contributors are asked to provide ten keywords and a brief headnote of around 100 words describing the contents of their article.
- All articles are refereed to ensure both accuracy and relevance. Authors may be asked to revise their articles before final acceptance.
- All materials for the journal must be in English. In special circumstances articles written in a foreign language will be considered for translation and publication. Such articles when submitted to the Editorial Board must be accompanied by a synopsis in English.
- Footnotes should be numbered from 1–99. They should be used as sparingly as possible.
- Referencing in IBA publications follows the Oxford Standard for Citation of Legal Authorities (www.law.ox.ac.uk/sites/default/files/migrated/oscola_4th_edn_hart_2012.pdf). Each footnote in the article should follow the model below:

 - Website: Shami Chakrabarti, 'The End of Innocence' (Lecture at the Centre for Public Law in Cambridge 2004), www.libertyhuman-rights.org.uk/resources/articles, accessed 20 February 2005.
