Zealous v abusive lawyering: where is the fine line between doing 'the best for the client' and abusing the weaker party?

We will discuss the ethical issues for lawyers around non-disclosure agreements (NDAs), Strategic Lawsuits against Public Participation (SLAPPs) and other potentially predatory litigation.

Non-Disclosure Agreements (NDAs)

- Protecting legitimate interests or perverting the course of justice?
- When, where and in what form are NDAs acceptable?
- What types of clauses are unacceptable?
- What are the ethical obligations for lawyers drafting NDAs and advising clients?
- NDAs from the perspective of one client/litigant, Zelda Perkins, who said of hers 'It is morally lacking on every level'.

Meg Strickler Conaway & Strickler, Atlanta, Georgia; Co-Chair, IBA Professional Ethics Committee

Thursday continued

Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation (SLAPPs)

- Are suggestions that lawyers are facilitating frivolous litigation aimed at silencing criticism greatly exaggerated?
- How do SLAPPs align with our obligations as lawyers to promote the protection of the fundamental right of freedom of expression?
- Are we, as lawyers taking our professional and ethical obligations seriously?
- Is there a risk that legitimate claims are being branded as SLAPPs?
- What are our obligations to interrogate clients' instructions and advise them on the risks?

Are you the one? Ethics as a criterion to select lawyers

This session is about the increasing use by clients of ethics criteria when selecting lawyers. Clients may look at track records of fraud and corruption, disciplinary or regulatory history and environmental, social and governance (ESG), ranging from diversity and inclusion standards to sustainability commitments.

- How do clients apply ethics criteria in practice?
- What policies do they use and what are the experiences?
- What does this mean for law firms and for lawyers?
- Which dilemma's do they face when it comes to privacy? Or when it comes to acting on other (potentially) controversial matters?
- Can a law firm be too ethical and 'prize' itself out of the market?

We will discuss these questions with clients and managing partners of law firms.

Friday 28 June

0900 – 0930 Keynote address

David Barniville President, High Court of Ireland, Dublin; Chair, IBA Judges Forum

0930 – 1030

(How) Should law firms react to such grave situations as the war in Ukraine or the Hamas terror attacks?

This panel will cover the following topics:

- Looking back on recent global situations, how would you assess law firm responses. What could they have done differently?
- Who decides what your position should be – who is in the inner circle of decision making? Who do you trust in your organisation to give you the right advice, do you need external counsel?

The panel will discuss the reasons why this is such an important question to answer, why are we speaking out and how this is intrinsically linked to law firm culture.

The session will conclude with a toolkit/checklist of what to consider when grave situations occur, and how to avoid getting it wrong.

Session Chair

David Burgess Chief Client Officer, The Legal 500, London; Member, IBA Law Firm Management Committee Advisory Board

Panellists

Michael Evans Joint Managing Director, Byfield Consultancy, London

David Kaufman Nixon Peabody, San Francisco, California

David Patient Travers Smith, London; Strategy Officer, IBA Law Firm Management Committee

1100 – 1200

You're the one that I (don't) want

This session will consider whether lawyers and law firms should apply any ethical considerations in client selection.

- Should law firms represent oil and gas companies, tobacco business or clients from countries who have invaded other countries?
- Should law firms be screening potential new clients based on their environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance?
- How do decisions that law firms make around these types of questions ultimately impact their business?
- Are there other groups of clients that might be acceptable today, but with any future change in public opinion might raise reputational issues for the firm?
- How do law firms address the challenges of client selection?
- How do individual lawyers reconcile their own position with that of their firm?

Session Chair

David O' Donnell Mason Hayes & Curran, Dublin

Panellists

Sara Carnegie Legal Director, International Bar Association, London

Philip van Hilt No More Worries, Amsterdam

When booking the Conference, full payment of the booking fee is required at the time we accept your booking.

It is the responsibility of the cardholder to ensure that the card's security details are ready and to check that there is a sufficient balance on the card for the payment to complete.

Unauthorised accommodation agents

It has been brought to our attention that there are multiple companies contacting past attendees, claiming to represent the IBA, offering 'assistance' with conference and hotel bookings.

They are operating by cold-calling and spamming companies whose names have appeared on previous List of Participants, Programmes and Sponsorship recognition. The only Accommodation Agent the IBA works with is Judy Lane ICS. Judy Lane ICS do not contact delegates on behalf of the IBA without delegates making initial contact. Please ignore any communication that does not come directly from the IBA or Judy Lane ICS.

If any deductions or withholdings are required by law to such fees, you shall pay such sum as will, after the deduction or withholding has been made, leave us with the same amount as we would have been entitled to receive in the absence of any such requirement to make a deduction or withholding.

Travel arrangements and visas

Participants are responsible for making their own travel arrangements to attend the Conference. It is recommended that you check any visa requirements with your local embassy or consulate. In particular, participants should inform themselves of the entry requirements (ie, visa requirements) of the event location and complete the necessary formalities in good time before the event begins. The IBA will not be liable if a visa application is denied, a visa is received too late to attend, or if a delegate is not able to travel to the Conference for any other reason.

We are unable to dispatch visa invitation letters to support your visa application prior to receipt of your booking form and full payment of conference fees.

Please apply for your visa in good time.

Badges

For security reasons, name badges are required to be worn visibly at all times during the Conference and at any IBA organised social function linked to the Conference. Proof of identity is required to collect your badge and for a replacement badge to be issued. Checks will be in place and staff will challenge delegates not wearing a valid conference badge. Anyone not wearing a badge must get a replacement badge from IBA staff or will be required to leave the venue immediately. Anyone found wearing a badge that they are not entitled to wear will have the badge removed and will be required to leave the Conference.

Dietary requirements

The IBA endeavours to accommodate all special dietary requests confirmed to us before bookings close. Requests made after this time cannot be guaranteed and all dietary requests are subject to local availability (which is outside the IBA's control).

Photography and filming

Certain sessions and social functions at an IBA Event may be photographed or filmed and some of this content may be used for future IBA marketing materials, member communications, products or services. Should you have any concerns about this, or if you do not wish to be featured in any of these materials, please contact the IBA Marketing Department at ibamarketing@int-bar.org.

No participant, attending in any capacity, is authorised to record or film the conference working sessions, workshops or social function without the prior written permission of the Conferences Director.

Illness

You will not attend the Conference if you are displaying symptoms of a communicable disease. Should you develop symptoms during your attendance, you will inform a member of IBA staff by email (confs@int-bar.org) and you agree not to attend any further sessions or related events and to comply with all local and national restrictions.

You agree that, if asked by the relevant local or national authorities, the IBA has permission to pass on your personal information and contact details to those authorities should contact tracing be required.

Promotional literature

No individual or organisation may display or distribute publicity material or other printed matter during an IBA Event, unless by prior arrangement with the IBA. Organisations and companies wishing to discuss promotional opportunities should contact the IBA Sponsorship Department at sponsorship@int-bar.org.

Conference sell-outs

The IBA hosts conferences in venues of a suitable size for each event; however, there are times when a conference may sell out and the IBA cannot guarantee places will be available. Should this happen, prospective delegates will be informed, and a waiting list will operate. The waiting list will function on a 'first come, first served' basis, subject to receiving booked delegate cancellations. The waiting list for the Conference will close once the waiting list has reached ten per cent of the venue capacity, as it is very unlikely a place will become available. IBA will not be liable for any expenses or costs incurred by you (including travel and accommodation costs) in relation to attendance at the Conference, including if you travel to the Conference without a confirmed place).

Cancellation by the IBA

We may at any time, with or without giving notice, in our absolute discretion and without giving any reason, cancel or postpone the Conference, change its venue or any of the other published particulars, or withdraw any invitation to attend. In any case, we will not be liable for any loss, liability, damage or expense suffered or incurred by any person, nor will we return any money paid to us in connection with the Conference unless we are satisfied not only that the money in question remains under our control but also that the person who paid it has been unfairly prejudiced (as to which, decision shall be in their sole and unfettered discretion and, when announced, final and conclusive).

The IBA shall have no liability to you, for a refund or otherwise, where the IBA is forced to cancel or reschedule part or all of the Conference due to reasons beyond our reasonable control. However, refunds may be paid at IBA's discretion.

IBA will be entitled to change the venue and make minor changes to the timing and content of the Conference.

Full Conference and Events Terms and Conditions apply.

International Bar Association

the global voice of the legal profession

About the IBA

The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to date information, enabling them to better represent their clients' interests.

Through its various committees, fora, and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

IBA Professional Ethics Committee

The Committee provides a forum for all international lawyers who are interested in discussing and debating issues affecting the practice of law. In today's world a lawyer may face conflicting duties and the application of professional standards may be far from apparent. The Committee focuses on developments of international significance and seeks active collaboration with other committees and constituents in providing programmes at the IBA conferences.

The Committee works closely with the IBA Standing Committee on Professional Ethics which is concerned with the maintenance and periodical reform of the International Code of Ethics.

The Committee seeks to facilitate relevant networking and information/experience sharing opportunities and encompasses the social and collegial interests of both members and potential members within IBA regional fora, the IBA Corporate Counsel Forum, IBA Young Lawyers Committee and all LPD committees in general.

For more information please visit the Professional Ethics Committee home page.
