

A conference presented by the IBA Arbitration Committee

23rd Annual IBA Arbitration Day

Innovation 360: new and novel ideas for the practice of arbitration - critically tested

24–25 March 2022

Ciragan Palace Kempinski, Istanbul, Turkey

Under the theme of Innovation 360: new and novel ideas for the practice of arbitration – critically tested, the 2022 Arbitration Day will present a series of panels, with each panel presenting one new idea that challenges a key aspect of the way in which international arbitration is presently practiced.

Each panel discussion will start with the proponents of the new idea making their case. Both the other panellists and the audience will then subject the new idea to critical testing and rigorous assessment.

Topics include:

Procedural timetable no 1 – topped and tailed: improved case management

- Quantum academy: training and certification on assessing damages
- Rethinking the justification for, preparation and presentation of witness testimony
- Procedural rules and institutional reforms to promote diversity and inclusion

Quantum academy: training and certification on assessing damages

Just about every international arbitration presents quantum issues and the value of claims, as well as the complexity of damages calculations, which has also increased substantially. However, lawyers' knowledge and understanding of the non-legal dimensions of damages calculations has not kept pace.

Mark Friedman will propose a way we can close that critical deficit, make damages calculations more cogent, more reliable and improve confidence in arbitration damages awards.

Friday continued

1400 – 1430 Keynote address

Juliet Blanch Arbitrator, Arbitration Chambers, London

1430 – 1545

Rethinking the justification for, preparation and presentation of witness testimony

Witness testimony now dominates most arbitration hearings. Its preparation and presentation has become a lengthy and expensive exercise, with often extensive and heavily lawyered witness statements that require correspondingly extensive cross-examination in order to assess and (frequently) unpack the evidence being adduced.

International arbitral tribunals have become increasingly sceptical about the value of this process. In many cases, the exercise comprises substantial redundancy, and has little impact on the resolution of the case. Further, as highlighted by a recent ICC Task Force as well as a Practice Direction issued by the English Business & Property Courts, witness recollections are frequently compiled without any regard to the science and workings of human memory, such that the evidence is of little value in any event.

Proponent

Toby Landau QC Duxton Hill Chambers, Singapore

Commentators

Alexandra Johnson Bär & Karrer, Geneva

Reza Mohtashami QC Three Crowns, London

1545 – 1615 Coffee/tea break

1615 – 1730

Promoting diversity and inclusion through procedural rules and institutional reforms

The international arbitration community has certainly embraced the importance of diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI). Yet, while some progress has been made to level the playing field in terms of opportunities for diversifying the pool of lead counsel, arbitrators, and those engaged in institutional leadership, significant distortions and imbalances remain, raising serious questions amongst important constituencies regarding the legitimacy of international arbitration as a mechanism for the fair and balanced resolution of cross-border disputes.

The time has come for all stakeholders in the international arbitral process to stop tinkering around the edges of the system and to engage in frank and consequential discussions about how to advance DEI in the field of international arbitration in a meaningful way.

Arif Hyder Ali will propose procedural rules, institutional reforms and other structural measures intended to achieve significant advances in addressing the DEI deficit.

Proponent

Arif Hyder Ali Dechert, Washington, DC

Commentators

Kathleen Paisley AMBOS, Brussels

Jacomijn Van Haersolte-van Hof Director General, London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA), London

Can Yeginsu 3 Verulam Buildings, London

1730 – 1745 Closing remarks

Valeria Galíndez Galíndez Arbitragem, Sao Paulo; Co-Chair, IBA Arbitration Committee

If any deductions or withholdings are required by law to be made from any fees payable to us by you under the terms contained in this 'Information' section you shall pay such sum as will, after the deduction or withholding has been made, leave us with the same amount as we would have been entitled to receive in the absence of any such requirement to make a deduction or withholding.

If we obtain the benefit of any tax credit or other relief by reference to any such deductions or withholdings, then we shall repay to you such amount as, after such repayment has been made, will leave us in no worse position than we would have been had no such deductions or withholdings been required.

Conference sell-outs

The IBA places its conferences in venues of a suitable size for each event; however, there are times when our conferences may sell out. Should this happen, prospective delegates will be informed and a waiting list will operate. The waiting list will function on a 'first come, first served' basis, subject to receiving registered delegate cancellations. The waiting list for a conference will close once it has reached ten per cent of the conference venue capacity, as it is very unlikely a place will become available. The IBA will not be liable for any travel or accommodation expenses incurred by an individual who travels to a conference without a confirmed place at the event.

Cancellation of registration

If cancellation is received in writing at the IBA office by 11 March 2022 fees will be refunded less a 25 per cent administration charge. Refunds will be made minus any monies owed to the IBA.

We regret that no refunds can be made after this date. Registrations received after 11 March 2022 will not be eligible for any refund of fees. Please note that the IBA will however offer a full refund if you are required to cancel your registration due to Covid related reasons; we will require written confirmation of your cancellation by the end of business on the first day of the conference.

Should you have difficulties in obtaining your visa and are not able to attend the Conference this cancellation policy will still apply.

Upon submission of your completed Conference registration form to the IBA you are considered 'registered' pending payment. Please note that the cancellation terms and conditions as indicated will apply as soon as your registration is received.

Provided you have cancelled your registration to attend an IBA Conference in accordance with the terms of the 'cancellation of registration' clause included in the 'Information' section of the relevant Conference programme, you must then confirm to us in writing at the IBA office as soon as possible, but in no event later than one year (12 calendar months) from the date of any such Conference, all necessary details to enable any reimbursement owed to you to be paid. We regret that no refunds will be made after the date that is one year (12 calendar months) after the date of the relevant Conference.

The IBA cannot accept responsibility for hotel accommodation disputes between a delegate and the hotel.

Unauthorised accommodation agents

It has been brought to our attention that there are multiple companies contacting past attendees, claiming to represent the IBA, offering 'assistance' with registration and hotel bookings.

They are operating by cold-calling and spamming companies whose names have appeared on previous List of Participants, Programmes and Sponsorship recognition. The only Accommodation Agent the IBA works with is Judy Lane ICS. Judy Lane ICS do not contact delegates on behalf of the IBA without delegates making initial contact. Please ignore any communication that does not come directly from the IBA or Judy Lane ICS.

International Bar Association

the global voice of the legal profession

The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to date information, enabling them to better represent their clients' interests.

Through its various committees, fora and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

Arbitration Committee Overview

The IBA Arbitration Committee focuses on laws, practice and procedures relating to the arbitration of transnational disputes. Through its conferences, publications and projects, the Committee seeks to share information about international arbitration, promote its use and improve its effectiveness.

Become a member of the Committee to benefit from networking opportunities, the opportunity to read and write IBA publications and discounts on conferences and webinars. You can also get involved with the work of the Committee.
