1330–1430 Beyond data protection: wider legal and ethical considerations around data collection and use
In a (legal) world which has recently been obsessed by data privacy-related issues, it’s easy to lose sight of big-picture concerns around data. Collection and use of data can, of course, give rise to very significant issues, even after you have all your GDPR ‘ducks in a row’. We will cover and discuss the main risks as we see them from a wider legal and ethical perspective and how to mitigate them. We will discuss issues around the various IP rights subsisting in data in a pharmaceutical context, concerns surrounding ownership of and rights to use data both in a traditional research and development context as well as data generated through data mining and AI. Also, we will distinguish particularities of genetic data as well as legal and ethical implications in view of the rapidly increasing personalisation of medicine.

Amelie Elias Getinge, Paris

1430−1530 New investment models in life sciences companies
Big pharma and corporate venture capital (VC) funds have begun investing in early-stage biotech/drug development companies. Often, several strategics invest in the same round. This creates an interesting dynamic with purely financial/VC investors that may invest alongside, particularly in terms of exit strategy (e.g., sale v IPO, timing, possible sale to competitors). We have also seen an uptick in investment by foundations (e.g., Gates Foundation), family offices and offshore investors in life science (both drug and device) companies, whether organised under US law or elsewhere, particularly from China and Korea recently. These types of investments present an array of issues, including addressing currency restrictions, local government approvals, restrictions around use of funds and rights to and protection of IP.

Moderator: William Whelan  Mintz, Boston, MA

Speakers: Michael A Margolis  Senior Managing Director, Co-Head Healthcare Investment Banking, Oppenheimer, New York City Brendan M O’Leary  Managing Director, Head of Life Sciences, Bowen, Boston, MA

1550−1650 Will AI replace physicians? AI reallocates roles, risks and liabilities
AI is progressively revolutionising healthcare on a global basis with some tasks that are now more securely performed by AI than healthcare professionals, for instance in diagnostics imaging. The doctor–patient relationship needs to adapt itself to this new paradigm. Healthcare professionals are led to acquire new competences. To what extent will their roles evolve? How do we anticipate, minimise and master liability risks linked to AI? We will discuss these issues with experts from the medical, industry, insurance and legal sectors.

Accordingly, all Conference attendees are expected to show respect and courtesy to other attendees, IBA staff and those involved with hosting the events throughout the Conference and at all Conference events, receptions, and parties, whether officially organised by the IBA or others. 0840–0950  International transparency and cooperation for pricing/reimbursement

In this session we shall attempt to discuss how some recent initiatives in the field of cooperation for pricing and reimbursement or medicines may be affected by international transparency. In December 2021, the European Union adopted a Regulation on Health Technology Assessment with the objective of facilitating cooperation in this field as well as business predictability. Recently, EFPIA has presented a discussion document on Equity Based Tiered Pricing including some innovative ideas. On the other hand, various authorities in the EU continue sponsoring actions to ensure that competition in the pharmaceutical market keeps being intense. How transparency fits into these initiatives is not easy, and it may well be that choices have to be made.

Moderators:

Jordi Faus  Faus & Moliner, Barcelona; Secretary, IBA Healthcare and Life Sciences Law Committee

Christophe Ronse  Altius, Brussels

Speakers:

Alexandre Carbonell  NERA Economic Consulting, Paris

Peter L’Ecluse  Van Bael Bells, Brussels

Sarah Marshall  Vice President and Head of Legal Department, Alexion, Zürich

Nicolas Pourbaix  Amgen, Belgium

0950–1120  Compulsory licensing or competition arrangements: a new way to access medicines and vaccines?

With the Covid-19 pandemic, a remarkable mobilisation of resources occurred: governments removed anti-trust restrictions and provided capital, pharmaceutical companies large and small collaborated and biotechnology companies and universities pooled knowledge. There were still regulatory roadblocks and problems of scale, but the significant scientific breakthroughs and miraculous innovations have helped combat the disease. This panel will discuss how (or if) the intellectual property or competition laws of different countries helped the innovation of new medical technologies related to Covid-19 and recent discussions and examples around business rationales, voluntary/compulsory licensing, antitrust and key contractual issues. The panel will also discuss collaborations between competitors and the panoply of contractual, IP and competition law issues.

Moderators:

1140–1230  Moot court: mediation, decision by judge and jury

Closing arguments by parties, final comments by the judge on the case and the jury’s verdict.

1230–1240  Final comments by Conference Co-Chairs

1240–1315  Lunch

1530–200  French afternoon tea and tour of Montmartre

Montmartre is one of the most charming Parisian neighbourhoods. Located in the 18th Arrondissement, this elevated rural neighbourhood on the outskirts of the city, a short distance from the city centre, has a collection of upscale shops and cafes and still exudes hints of old village charm, with one of Paris’ most magnificent churches, the famous Basilica of the Sacred Heart (Sacre Couer) and Place du Tertre, both known in international movies and literature.

A special treasure hunt is planned to conference delegates to discover Montmartre while engaging with your team and exploring culture and history.

Before the treasure hunt and tour you will enjoy a traditional French afternoon tea at La Cremaillere, a beginning of the 20th Century delicatessen where hot beverages and classic pastries will be served.

Tour will begin at 1730 after tea time.

Ticket price €70

If any deductions or withholdings are required by law to be made from any fees payable to us by you under the terms contained in this ‘Information’ section you shall pay such sum as will, after the deduction or withholding has been made, leave us with the same amount as we would have been entitled to receive in the absence of any such requirement to make a deduction or withholding.

If we obtain the benefit of any tax credit or other relief by reference to any such deductions or withholdings, then we shall repay to you such amount as, after such repayment has been made, will leave us in no worse position than we would have had no such deductions or withholdings been required.

The IBA places its conferences in venues of a suitable size for each event; however, there are times when our conferences may sell out. Should this happen, prospective delegates will be informed and a waiting list will operate. The waiting list will function on a ‘first come, first served’ basis, subject to receiving registered delegate cancellations. The waiting list for a conference will close once it has reached ten per cent of the conference venue capacity, as it is very unlikely a place will become available. The IBA will not be liable for any travel or accommodation expenses incurred by an individual who travels to a conference without a confirmed place at the event.
Should you have difficulties in obtaining your Visa and are not able to attend the Conference this cancellation policy will still apply.

Provided you have cancelled your registration to attend an IBA Conference in accordance with the terms of the ‘cancellation of registration’ clause included in the ‘Information’ section of the relevant Conference programme, you must then confirm to us in writing at the IBA office as soon as possible, but in no event later than one year (12 calendar months) from the date of any such Conference, all necessary details to enable any reimbursement owed to you to be paid. We regret that no refunds will be made after the date that is one year (12 calendar months) after the date of the relevant Conference.
