Headline social event sponsors

Associate conference sponsor
Corporate social responsibility and employee activism

The workplace is often a confluence of economics, politics and social issues. While the workplace can be a battleground of rights, it can also play a very significant role in effecting positive change in society.

Employees are increasingly looking to organisational leadership to take a stand on issues such as race, gender, immigration, climate change, cross-border supply chain, and most recently the war in Ukraine.

This session considers the role employers and employment lawyers can play as agents of change, and the relative risks and rewards of doing so.

Session Chairs
Frances Anderson  Assistant Victorian Government Solicitor, Victorian Government Solicitor’s Office, Melbourne, Victoria; Website Officer, IBA Diversity and Equality Law Committee
Szymon Kubiak  Wardynski & Partners, Warsaw; Website Officer, IBA Employment and Industrial Relations Law Committee

Preventing and defending discrimination claims

This session will present the differing ways that employers address and defend discrimination claims across jurisdictions. While discrimination may be illegal in most jurisdictions, differing regimes present different challenges in dealing with such claims. We will discuss how strategies should be determined based on various factors such as the burden of proof required, the type of tribunal or judicial process applicable, the nature of the claims and the remedies available.

Session Chairs
Yvonne Frederiksen  Norrbom Vinding, Copenhagen; Co-Chair, IBA Disability Rights Working Group
Ronnie Neville  Mason Hayes & Curran, Dublin; Diversity and Inclusion Officer, IBA Diversity and Equality Law Committee

Speakers

Blanca Mateu  Head of Employee and Labour Relations Spain and Portugal, Johnson & Johnson, Madrid
John Sander  Jackson Lewis, New York

Equal treatment – how to balance regulation and affirmative action

This session will consider whether complex and technical rules governing equal treatment are more effective to achieving their aim than general principles of non-discrimination and equal treatment. Employers are subject to increasingly burdensome and changing legislation on equal treatment so the effort involved in trying to keep up with this ever-changing landscape may potentially discourage efforts by employers to introduce positive and proactive changes that go beyond these (minimal) requirements.

Promoting equality and implementing modern working conditions through the collective bargaining process

The world has seen a trend towards increased unionisation in the last decade, expanding beyond typical industries such as manufacturing. Unions are trying to regulate the future of work, even though employees form only one half of the employment relationship. The range of collective platforms and regimes available varies significantly between Europe and North America, notably Canada and the United States, where cultural foundations and perspectives on the matter differ widely. To what degree do collective agreements concentrate on discrimination or equality? Where are the challenges in avoiding discrimination while implementing certain working conditions and/or a framework for equality, especially regarding gender, age, or union?

Comparisons between continents could provide an interesting starting point from which to establish a better understanding of the whole concept of collective relations.

Personal issues and social isolation impacting the workplace
The increasing use of technology and reduction of genuine personal time has significantly tipped the work-life balance, with work stress leading to illness and suicides presenting significant legal and HR issues for global companies. The IBA places its conferences in venues of a suitable size for each event; however, there are times when our conferences may sell out. Should this happen, prospective delegates will be informed and a waiting list will operate. The waiting list will function on a ‘first come, first served’ basis, subject to receiving registered delegate cancellations. The waiting list for a conference will close once it has reached ten per cent of the conference venue capacity, as it is very unlikely a place will become available. The IBA will not be liable for any travel or accommodation expenses incurred by an individual who travels to a conference without a confirmed place at the event.

Cancellation of registration or social functions
If cancellation is received in writing at the IBA office by 26 August 2022 fees will be refunded less a 25 per cent administration charge. Refunds will be made minus any monies owed to the IBA. We regret that no refunds can be made after this date. Registrations or social function bookings received after 26 August 2022 will not be eligible for any refund of fees. Please note that the IBA will however offer a full refund if you are required to cancel your registration due to Covid related reasons; we will require written confirmation of your cancellation by the end of business on the first day of the conference.

Photography and filming
Certain sessions and/or social functions may be photographed and/or filmed and some of this content may be used for future IBA marketing materials, member communications, products or services. Should you have any concerns with regard to this, or do not wish to be featured in any of these materials please contact the IBA Marketing Department at ibamarketing@int-bar.org.

Promotional literature
Please note that no individual or organisation may display or distribute publicity material or other printed matter during the Conference, unless by prior arrangement with the IBA. Organisations and companies wishing to discuss promotional opportunities should contact the IBA Sponsorship Department at sponsorship@int-bar.org.

No deductions or withholdings
All fees payable to us by you in accordance with the terms contained in this ‘Information’ section shall be paid free and clear of all deductions or withholdings whatsoever.

If any deductions or withholdings are required by law to be made from any fees payable to us by you under the terms contained in this ‘Information’ section you shall pay such sum as will, after the deduction or withholding has been made, leave us with the same amount as we would have been entitled to receive in the absence of any such requirement to make a deduction or withholding.

If we obtain the benefit of any tax credit or other relief by reference to any such deductions or withholdings, then we shall repay to you such amount as, after such repayment has been made, will leave us in no worse position than we would have been had no such deductions or withholdings been required.

Should you have difficulties in obtaining your visa and are not able to attend the Conference this cancellation policy will still apply.

Upon submission of your completed Conference registration form to the IBA you are considered ‘registered’ pending payment. Please note that the cancellation terms and conditions as indicated will apply as soon as your registration is received.

Provided you have cancelled your registration to attend an IBA Conference in accordance with the terms of the ‘cancellation of registration’ clause included in the ‘Information’ section of the relevant Conference programme, you must then confirm to us in writing at the IBA office as soon as possible, but in no event later than one year (12 calendar months) from the date of any such Conference, all necessary details to enable any reimbursement owed to you to be paid. We regret that no refunds will be made after the date that is one year (12 calendar months) after the date of the relevant Conference.
Travel arrangements and visas
Participants are responsible for making their own travel arrangements. It is recommended that you check your visa requirements with your local embassy or consulate. The IBA cannot accept responsibility for hotel accommodation disputes between a delegate and the hotel.

Unauthorised accommodation agents
It has been brought to our attention that there are multiple companies contacting past attendees, claiming to represent the IBA, offering ‘assistance’ with registration and hotel bookings. They are operating by cold-calling and spamming companies whose names have appeared on previous List of Participants, Programmes and Sponsorship recognition. The only Accommodation Agent the IBA works with is Judy Lane ICS. Judy Lane ICS do not contact delegates on behalf of the IBA without delegates making initial contact. Please ignore any communication that does not come directly from the IBA or Judy Lane ICS.

Leading Risk and Compliance Management.
The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to-date information, enabling them to better represent their clients' interests.

Through its various committees, fora and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

Employment and Industrial Relations Law Committee Overview

Very few legal fields face the revolutionary changes that employment and industrial relations laws do. Issues such as technology, human rights, globalisation, corporate citizenship and increased movements of people have created unprecedented legal complexity as they interact with traditional laws often formulated decades ago. As the largest of the Human Resource Section Committees of the IBA, the purpose of the Committee is the identification, technical analysis and proactive management of national, regional and global developments in these rapidly evolving fields. The Committee takes a ‘cutting edge’ approach to its selection of topics and speakers and draws upon the combined experience of its officers and panellists to present the members with innovative solutions to the employment law problems of today.

Diversity and Equality Law Committee Overview

The Diversity and Equality Law Committee comprises private practitioners, in-house attorneys and academics, many of whom work with corporate clients in order to help them fulfil their key goals in such areas as pay equity, prevention of discrimination based on gender, race, religion, age, and disability (among other protected traits), and LGBTQ issues.

Many of these professionals are members of leading law firms or corporations. Of course, we welcome members from all areas and with all perspectives.
